Project Model

Before you start

It might sound simple, but don't avoid these questions!

Why are you implementing a new system?

Let's work together to identify and achieve real business needs in your company.

Is your team on board?

Change is seldom easy. It will affect roles and responsibilities. Make sure you communicate with your team!

Have you set priorities?

Establish your goals clearly - what's important and what can wait?

Take the long view

Move fast and solve problems one app at a time.

Everything in phases

Do everything in your power to go live sooner and with fewer features. Implement in phases!

Be open to learning

Acknowledge that things will change and you don't need to know everything to get the ball rolling.

Embrace change

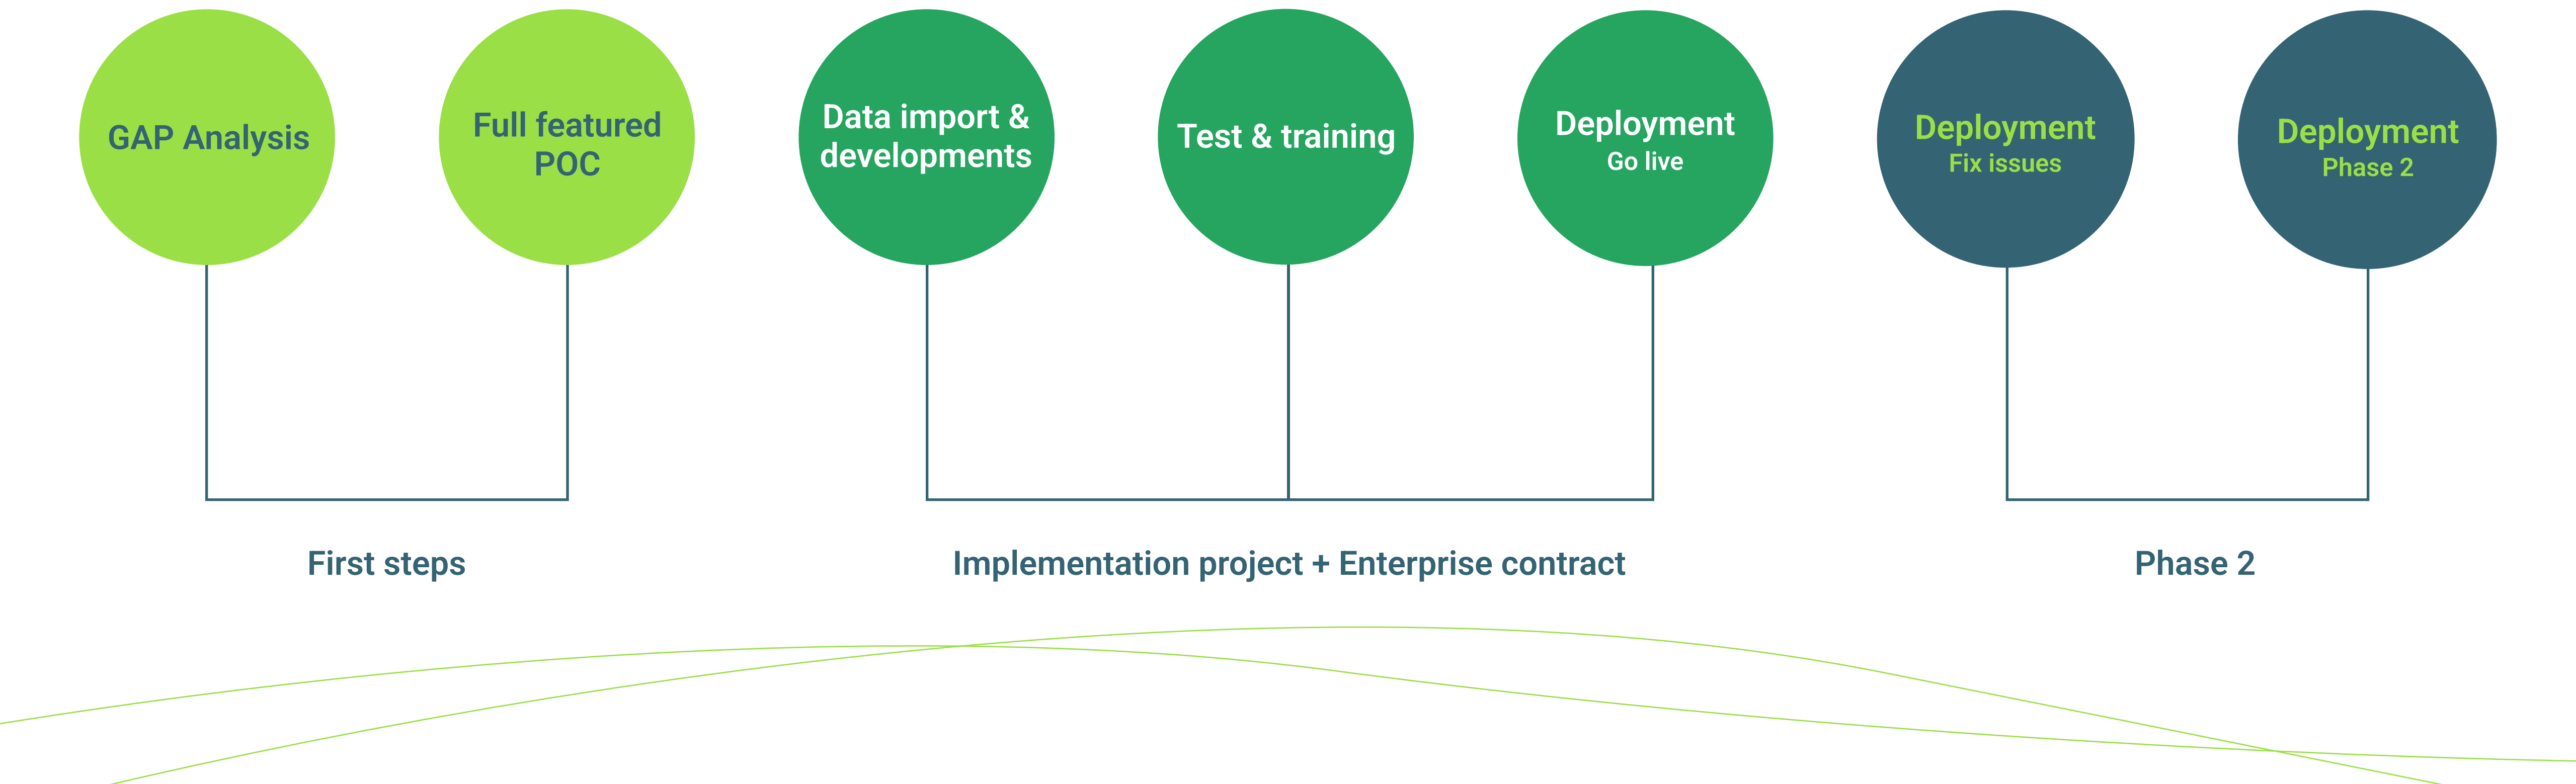

System implementations are about change, and even the process may change as we move forward.

our method

adaptable to any industry

Optimised and adaptable to your specific business requirements, our implementation model is designed to help you get Odoo up and running in your company in the shortest possible time.

We focus on easy and quick in order for our clients to see a faster return of investment.

improve your processes

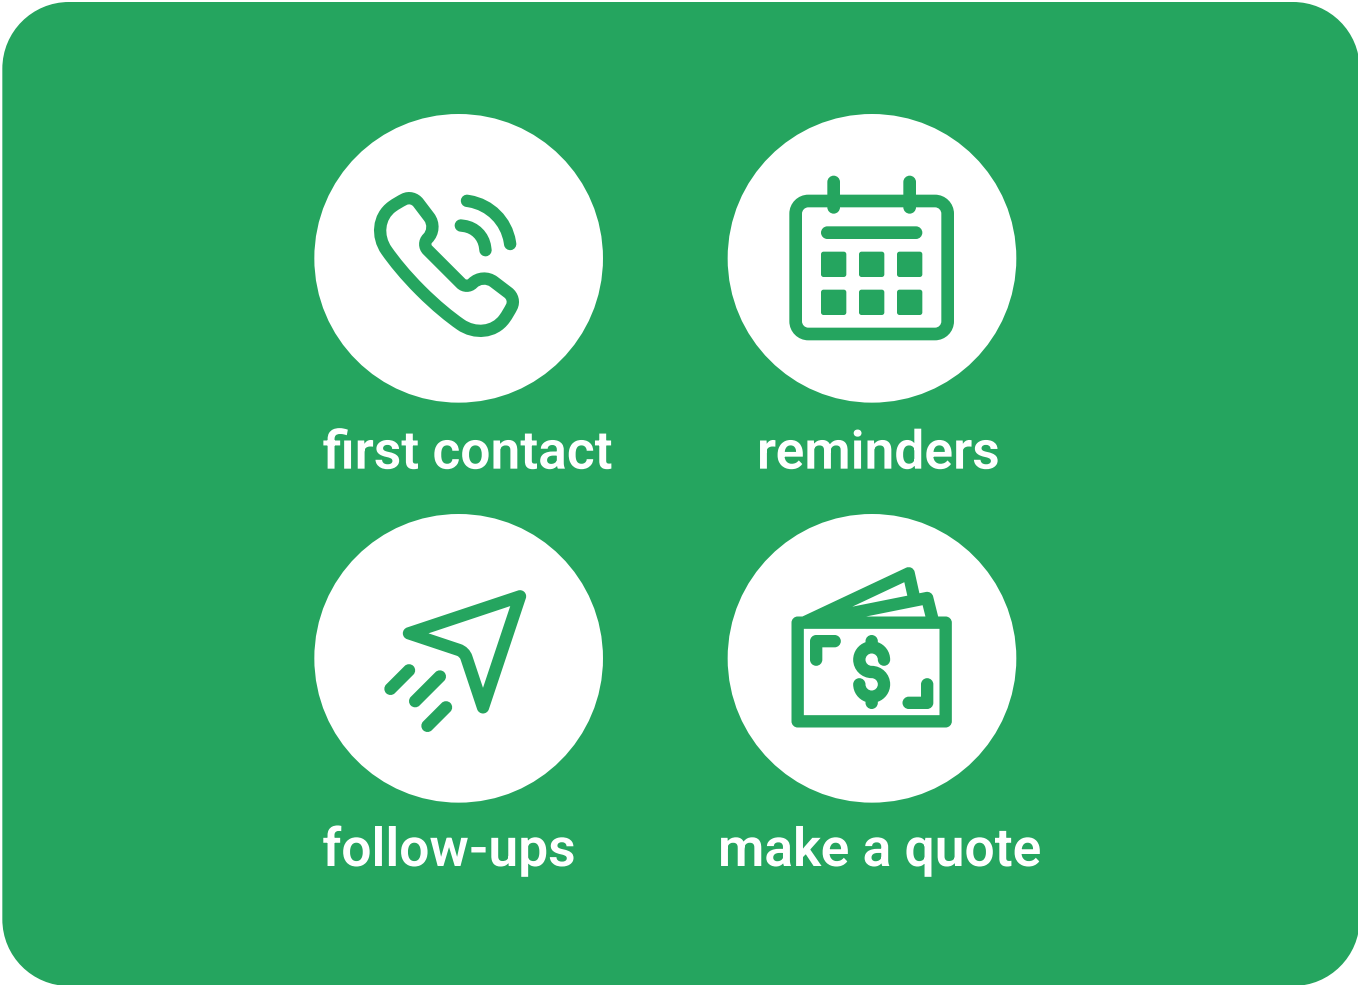

Let us show you how to implement best practices in your work processes. We can show you how Odoo approaches problems from an outside-in perspective. Once we have the foundation, Odoo makes it easier to automate and adapt your system to meet your unique requirements. You can use Odoo in any and all aspects of your business.

Odoo is a flexible system. It can be used in any industry and Linserv's role is to help you understand and implement the system that works for your company.

Continuous Support

Our goal is that Odoo continues to work efficiently and reliably at the lowest cost possible. Take advantage of our CI and CD toolbox as well as our maintenance service and included fixed prices for upgrades. Once we go live, we work together to handle all issues that may arise as soon as possible.

Support and Maintenance

After go-live you want to maintain and upgrade your system regularly. Linserv offers a fixed price support and maintenance agreement that will help you keep your system easily upgraded and avoid unexpected costs.
